1. Each Branch is for a specific method. Each method should have its associated unit test.
2. Tests must pass before sending for review.
  - a. Unit tests should be written before the method
  - b. Tests should run a set of expected inputs to a method, and compare the outputs to expected values.
3. Each Branch requires 2 reviews before merging.
  - a. Reviews should confirm the inputs and outputs are as expected.
  - b. Reviews should ensure the code is readable and follows the expected style guide.
4. Style should remain consistent.
  - a. All variables and functions should use camel case naming i.e. theFunction
  - b. Classes should use Pascal case i.e. TheClass
  - c. Indentation should follow a guide for each subspace using a tab to indent from the line above. The project will be in Python, so no bracketing is expected.
5. Before merging a branch, ensure files being merged are correct, and no other changes are made.
  - a. .gitignore file to ignore /Pycache and any temporary log files.
